Receive Calls To Destroy Dogs, Rescue Cats, Deliver Notices, Etc.

326 ESCORT TRIPS

Report For 1948 Shows 151 Taken Into Custody; 54 Held For Court

Police officers are often called upon to perform various services other than layman ordinarily associates with the duties of police officers. The annual report submitted by Linford J. Jones, chief of police, to Bristol borough council for the year 1948 reveals some of these services.

The patrolmen were called upon to destroy 76 dogs last year, or an average of over six a month. The officers were also called upon to destroy 21 cats, and they delivered 1195 notices of various types, and issued warnings to 75 juvenile bicycle riders about law violations. One snake was destroyed and one horse after the latter had been injured. The police gave aid to 13 persons, delivered 13 messages, assisted in three mental cases, returned seven missing persons who were found, investigated one suicide case, did duty on 326 escort trips, took charge when one person was found dead, and sent the head of one dog to the state laboratory for examination for rabies.

Exclusive of arrests for motor violations, Bristol police officers, during 1948, took 151 persons into custody. The majority of those arrested were charged with disorderly conduct, the total being 74. There were 10 arrested for non-support, and seven taken into custody for operating automobiles while intoxicated. Seventeen were apprehended for burglary, and the balance of the 151 arrested were for various minor offenses.

Of the total 151 arrested, 51 were held for court; 50 fined; 24 committed to county prison; one turned over to police of other cities; one turned over to military police; one

WRITES UNDERTAKER TO COME GET HER BODY

Body of Mrs. Mahlon B. Fretz, 80, Found at Her Newtown Home

WANTED NO FUNERAL

NEWTOWN, Jan. 13 — The body of an 80-year-old widow was found hanging in her residence yesterday afternoon, upon the visit of a local undertaker who had received a note mailed to him in which it was stated that the deceased planned to commit suicide.

Helen P. Fretz, 80, widow of Mahlon B. Fretz, who operated a drug store here for many years, died due to suicide according to the certificate issued by J. Alfred Rigby, Bucks County coroner.

A local funeral director received a note, written apparently by Mrs. Fretz, in which she told him to come get her body as she was going to commit suicide. The unusual message told the undertaker not to plan any funeral, "just bury me."

Mrs. Fretz made her home with her son, William B. Fretz, who was at his employment and unaware of the tragedy.

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

This country's concern over British troop movements in the Palestine area was expressed when London gave Washington advance notice that reinforcements would be sent to the Trans-Jordan port of Aqaba, Acting Secretary of State Lovett disclosed yesterday.

The inability of Britain and the United States to agree has wrecked every recent attempt to solve the Palestine problem, Anthony Eden declared in a political speech. The Conservative party leader said the United States must share the blame and denounced the actions of the British Labor Government in the Middle East.

In Rehovoth, Israeli Provisional President Weizmann appealed to the British to abandon a course of conduct that might lead to war and said there was no reason why happy relations could not be restored. The crisis in relations with Britain was said to be of more moment to Israel than the dispute with the Arabs or the armistice negotiations opening today on Rhodes, where Egyptian and Israeli delegations gathered for the talks.

German leaders were reported to have formulated a program to defeat the Ruhr statute barring German control of Ruhr industries. The plan, which would control all Ger-

PEACE: A MENACE?

There is a side of national policy which ought to be very clearly understood by all Americans interested in their own and their country's future.

This is the fact that we are drifting, under President Truman, into a position where peace would be an economic disaster.

We have had a splurge, in the last eighteen months, of so-called "Truman prosperity." Many political observers credit the "good times" as being what really re-elected the President.

What is the source of this so-called prosperity? Its foundations are not hard to find. It is based on the vast governmental spending for re-armament, and the still bigger spending by the government in the fields of foreign relief.

Both of these are part of the cold war. Without the background of hostility between Uncle Sam and Russia, very little of this special spending would ever have been considered.

If a world-peace program showed up tomorrow, especially one which called for international disarmament, the bulk of this spending would stop.

If Stalin, directly or through some intermediary (the Pope, for example, or possibly the heads of the British government) were to come forward with a peace proposal so attractive that our government could find no excuse for turning it down, then the bottom would be knocked out of our cold-war prosperity.

There is no secret about this situation. It is fairly well understood, even by "the man in the street." Only a sense of uneasiness about where such a situation leads appears to be responsible for the fact that—like halitosis—it isn't being widely discussed.

On the other hand, it would be unfair to say that the heads of our government are suppressing the fact that, as one of them put it, "peace is deflationary." Mr. Truman in his three messages, while not saying definitely at any point that an outburst of peace would wreck his program, certainly made it clear that the foundation of his entire four-year financial program is his assumption peace will not be restored within that period.

The size of the governmental spending which a sudden return to peace would eliminate is incredibly big. Almost exactly

JUDGE DISMISSES OBJECTION IN CASE

Sellersville Man Ordered To Appear for Trial in Non-Support Case

WIFE IS THE PLAINTIFF

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 13 — President Judge Hiram H. Keller Monday handed down an opinion in the Quarter Sessions Court in the case of the Commonwealth against Arthur L. Schmidt, of Sellersville, charged with non-support.

When the action for non-support was called for trial, the defendant pleaded an agreement of separation as a bar to the proceeding.

Judge Keller dismissed the objection to the granting of an order of support, and the parties were directed to appear for trial at a time to be fixed by the District Attorney.

The prosecutrix, Elsie Schmidt, and the defendant, were married June 29, 1942. Prior to their marriage on April 4, 1942—the prosecutrix who was then Elsie Shelly, and the defendant acquired title, as tenants in common, to real estate on Lawn avenue, Sellersville, from the mother of the prosecutrix.

Throughout their marriage and until their separation, the defendant not only supported and maintained his wife and his mother, but also provided payments on account of principal and interest on mortgages, out of his separate earnings.

Due to matrimonial difficulties, the prosecutrix and defendant entered into a separation agreement on Dec. 19, 1947.

Since the execution of the agreement the parties have not lived together as husband and wife, although they continued to live in the same house. The parties actually separated on April 26, 1948, on which day the defendant left the common domicile. The wife removed from the premises on the following day. They have not lived together nor has the defendant contributed to his wife's support since April 26, 1948.

Neither party ever considered or offered a reconciliation with the separation agreement.

One month after the separation, Mrs. Schmidt instituted the action for non-support, alleging that the defendant willfully and maliciously deserted and separated himself from

DAIRYMAN IS AWARDED A VERDICT FOR $5,000

Civil Suit Near Outgrowth of Accident Near Dublin in 1945

PLAINTIFF, F. BENNER

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 13 — A Perkasie dairyman, Frank Benner, 53, was awarded a verdict of $5,000 at the conclusion of a 1½-day trial in civil court here this week. The lawsuit, which grew out of an automobile accident on Quakertown-Doylestown highway Dec. 28, 1945, was heard before Judge Fred W. Davis, of Stroudsburg.

The suit was the outgrowth of a collision with the plaintiff's automobile and a truck driven by Robert Poma, of near Kulps Corner.

Benner, who testified that his back was permanently injured and forced him to give up lifting heavy objects in his dairy work or riding around soliciting customers because it was too painful, was seeking $20,000.

The trial was exciting because the defendant, who persisted in answering and explaining more than he was asked by counsel, blurted out that after the accident he didn't make much fuss because he was insured.

When Robert Poma, the defendant, volunteered a statement relative to insurance, motion for the withdrawal of a juror was made by his counsel.

Judge Davis ruled that since the defendant made the remark without being responsive to a question and since he did it without fully comprehending its effect, the motion

URGES DIRECTORS TO SURVEY THE SCHOOL SITUATION

Langhorne - Middletown P. T. A. Moves to Send Resolution to Board

2 MEMBERS REPORT

Weir, Mladjen Outline Services of Economy League, and Institute of L&SG

LANGHORNE, Jan. 13 — A motion was passed by Langhorne-Middletown Parent-Teacher Association at its January meeting, Tuesday evening in the high school building, empowering the executive committee to "urge the school board to have a study made to determine the kind and extent of school facilities needed by the community and to offer to raise whatever funds may be required to finance such a study." The motion was made by J. G. Vandeventer, and seconded by Mrs. Murphy. The motion was passed without a dissenting vote.

The motion was the outgrowth of an evening given over to thorough discussion of reports made by two members of the association, President Walter Weir and John Mladjen. Mladjen had been named to inquire as to types of survey service offered by two organizations. Mr. Weir's report was on the Pennsylvania Economy League, and that of Mr. Mladjen on the Institute of Local and State Government.

In inquiring into services offered by the Economy League, Mr. Weir had learned that the Langhorne-Middletown school board had already made an appointment for a representative to meet with a special committee of the local school board on Monday evening of this week. The committee is headed by Dr. J. Frederic Scull. Mr. Weir was a guest at Monday evening's session, held in the high school, and it was a report on his findings at this session which was presented by him Tuesday evening to P. T. A. members.

The types of service offered by the Economy League and the Institute of Local and State Government were found to be similar in many respects, members of P. T. A. were informed. Members were told that the prime aim of suggested survey

ALCOHOL FOR AUTOS

It was only a little over a year ago that the whiskey makers were forced to shut down for two months by government edict.
Grain was supposed to be in such short supply, Europe was so hungry, that the diversion of grain to make alcohol was all but outlawed. It later developed there was a big carryover of grain from the 1947 crop into 1948.
The scarcity was imaginary.

Anyway, the Department of Agriculture's chemical division now suggests that a cure may soon be found for the great surpluses of grain on hand and in prospects. Convert it into alcohol.
Inject the alcohol into automobile engines—which then run as well on low-grade gasoline as on highoctane fuel fortified with tetra-ethyl lead.

Dr. C. E. Hilbert, the reporting chemist, adds that the use of injected alcohol may have more virtues besides using up surpluses of corn and wheat. He estimates that the petroleum reserves of the country could be extended "at least 10 per cent," and the shortage of lead alleviated. It seems that 8 per cent of all American lead goes into high-test gasoline.
And there is a shortage of lead.

Alcohol as a fuel is nothing new, of course. The high cost of making it is doubtless the chief reason why such uses as Dr. Hilbert suggests have not been developed before now. He says it will require a great deal more study and research to make sure injected alcohol will not damage the metal of the engines. And a suitable denaturant must be perfected.

For car drivers, gasoline and alcohol do not mix well. But in the cylinders of automobile engines, the mixture may be a desirable combination for the future.

CLOSING A GAP

The United States has by far the greatest steel-producing capacity of any nation, but Russia is making strenuous efforts to close the wide gap. Soviet investment in iron and steel is 70 per cent higher than in 1940. Expansion is occurring also in coal, petroleum, chemicals and electricity.

As nearly as can be estimated outside the iron curtain, the Soviet is investing 28 per cent of its national income in steel expansion. New productive units are being brought constantly into operation. Russia's steel capacity, probably 15 to 20 million tons a year compared to America's 90 million tons, may soon be making rapid gains.

Russia is giving first priority to heavy industries. This could be for the purpose of turning out machinery and devices to improve the standard of living for the Russian people and their satellites. But, of course, it isn't. It is for war and conquest.

Russia's basic and most powerful industrial area is now behind the Urals. That, in event of a conflict, would be the most difficult spot on the face of the earth to attack. Statements of some military men that Russia could be polished off in three weeks do not help to the facts.

Peace: A Menace?

half of the new proposed budget, or $21 billions out of $42 billions, is frankly tied up to our cold-war with Russia. And Mr.
Truman made it clear that still more may be added—particularly if we decide to go into the re-arming of Europe's Western Union.

Aside from the blow to our economy which the sudden cancellation of the greater part of this spending would mean, the dislocations to industry, now being geared to this special production, would be nearly as great as those involved by the re-conversion after the war.

The reason why this subject ought to have closer attention from the American people is this: there are great and obvious dangers in building our future on a renouncement of peace.

The moment we come, as a nation, to the place where we could have reason to dread peace for the disturbances it might cause us, then consciously or otherwise we begin to fear peace, hope against it, work against it.

Has some part of our national government already reached this state of mind? Of course no one can prove what someone else may be thinking. But there are facts which could be assembled to make a plausible case.

The mere appointment, by Mr. Truman, of a professional army man, General Marshall, to negotiate with Russia on peace questions, was in itself a step that, to Russia, bordered on the unfriendly. Still more hostile in appearance must have been our repeated military maneuvers in Alaska, just across from Russia's borders. Moreover, it is on the records that, immediately prior to every important peace session with Russia in the last two years, one or another State Department leader has delivered a sharp attack on Russian motives and methods. Whatever the intention, these attacks could hardly fail to prevent the meetings from reaching any agreement on peace.

Are we now in a trap, where we can't afford (or think we can't) which is about the same thing) to have the world reach a settlement for a just and durable peace?

That would be a frightful situation. It would mean that the dream of statesmen for generations—such figures as William Penn, for example—of world collaboration on peaceful terms is out of the window for this generation at least.

It would mean that those now alive must live out their careers —and possibly their children as well—in a state of armed siege, with the threat of World War III. forever over their heads like the Sword of Damocles!

Urges Directors To Survey School Situation

by either organization is to find out the actual school needs for the distant future as well as the present. Such long-range survey, it was stated, will point out what is useable in the existing school structures, and what should be changed to meet future needs. One phase of the survey would be the taking of a census of the area with the idea of figuring on the density of population so that any new school buildings could be placed where most accessible, thus cutting down on pupil transportation costs. Such a survey would also show population trends, it was mentioned—giving an idea what can be expected in school population in 20 or 25 years. In such, the trend of movement of families from urban to suburban areas would be taken into consideration.

The area would also be surveyed with a view to possible consolidation as regards school districts, the two making the reports explained.

Thus, if and where some districts are too small to support adequate school structures, changes could be suggested. Such survey would also be of aid in finding the tax base, it was stated. "In some areas which are densely populated there are no industries to help bear the heavy taxes," one of the group commented. "Hence the industrial growth would be taken into consideration."

Thus was climaxed in its fourth meeting of the current school year a discussion started in the September PTA meeting over the need for a school gym. The original discussion flowed over, in subsequent meetings, to an examination of the entire educational needs of the community.

As at previous meetings, members introduced themselves to members they had not previously met, and exchanged name tags with them. A grand prize of $5 worth of cleaning was awarded the person holding the lucky name tag from last month's meeting. The winning tag carried Mrs. Dohman's name and was held by Harold Keller, a teacher at the high school.

Prizes of instant coffee were awarded the first ten people on their feet with questions or opinions when the meeting was thrown open to the general discussion. The cup awarded to the school having the greatest number of parents in attendance was won for the fourth straight time by the Friends School.

Refreshments were served to 77
in the basement.

COMMUNICATION

Jan. 8, 1949

Editor, The Courier:

My wife and I wish to congratulate the fire companies of Edgely and Bristol for the very prompt reply to the fire which we had on January 7, 1949, at 11.15 p. m. The Edgely Company was there on the job in about three minutes, and the Bristol Company, who had further to come, in five minutes.

It is a wonderful feeling of satisfaction to have two such fine fire companies in our community.

Sincerely,

ALICE & GEORGE P. BENNETT

Recover $3,170 in Excess Rents from Landlords

More than $3,170 in excess rents was recovered from landlords and refunded to tenants through rent control compliance by the Philadelphia Area Rent Office during the month of December, Joseph T. Turchi, Area Rent Director, announced today. This brings the total refunds to tenants for the year 1948 to an amount in excess of $36,000.

During the month of December landlords have applied for increased rents for 461 dwelling units. The increases were requested under the 13 grounds for individual adjustments permitted by the Rent Regulations. These include major capital improvements, increases in services or equipment, increased occupancy, inequitable rents and decreases in net revenue.

Of the petitions filed, the rent office entered orders affecting 451 dwelling units. Rent increases were granted for 295 units and no increases were allowed on 156 units. The predominant reasons for rent increases were inequitable rents, major capital improvements, increases in services or equipment and decreases in net revenue.

Landlords owning rental properties in Philadelphia, Bucks, Chester, Delaware and Montgomery counties, who believe they qualify for rent increases on one or more of the adjustment should file their petitions with the rent office at 17 Brief Avenue, Upper Darby, Pa. Those landlords who are not certain of their rights under the Act should call at the rent office for guidance and information.

Tenants who have reason to believe that they are being overcharged should file their complaints with the Philadelphia Rent Office. For the convenience of the public there is a Rent Station located in the city of Philadelphia in room 416 Perry Building, 1530 Chestnut street.

her on April 26, 1948 and has willfully and maliciously neglected to maintain her.
Judge Keller's opinion notes that certain undisputed facts in the case give rise to the question whether a separation agreement entered into in good faith by the husband and the wife, without any fraud, is valid and binding upon the wife and whether such an agreement is a bar to a support proceeding by the wife against her husband.
"Family settlements are always favored and, when made to settle controversies between husband and wife, they will be upheld and enforced if possible," Judge Keller notes in his opinion.
"The law is firmly established in this state that a valid agreement may be for an actual and immediate separation between husband and wife, if made upon reasonable terms and actually carried into effect by both parties in good faith."
"The fact that the defendant, before the separation, paid the interest and reduced the installments on account of the principal of the mortgage cannot be regarded as a consideration supporting this agreement, but must be treated as an executed gift by him to his wife."
"Moreover, these payments incurred to the benefit of both and must be treated as a part of his duty to properly maintain his wife."
Judge Keller ruled that while the fact that the wife received a share of the proceeds of the sale of their real estate, and should be considered by the court, it is not at all controlling and will not necessarily bar the wife's right to support if the circumstances warrant it.
"Accordingly, we must over-rule the defendant's plea and direct that the case be heard by the court on its merits," Judge Keller ruled.

He made a few remarks to the group concerning physical fitness. He also commended the boys for their fine work in achieving an undeclared record, and stated that without excellent physical fitness their goal could not have been realized.

Donald Weeks led group singing and Bensalem's Betty Lou Ushin accompanied him at the piano. W. Spencer Erwin gave the invocation prior to the meal.

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 13 — Walter E. German, Wrightstown township farmer, residing near The Anchor, is plaintiff in a civil trial now under way in Judge Hiram H. Keller's court here, in which Alvin F. Bishop, of Newtown, is the defendant.

The plaintiff received six broken ribs and other injuries, which he claims prevents him from carrying on his work as he previously did.
The defense will get under way today.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. R. L. Carlson
Pastor
Harriman Methodist Church

We must plan for our own spiritual life and its development if we would make 1949 a best year. This cultivation of our spiritual life would probably begin with a private and personal worship of God. Each day should find us for a few moments in a quiet place with our Bible, some good devotional helps, and God. There as we shut out the world we can seek God's blessing of His grace which brings Salvation and life to us. There we can quiet ourselves before God to see clearly the issues of life. There we can gain the power to live as we feel we ought. There we can gain the spiritual quality which will make that day a best day.

"WARRIORS" THUS FAR HAVE 40.2 PTS. AVERAGE PER GAME

The Bristol High Warriors have been averaging 40.2 points per game according to the statistics gathered after completing their seventh game Tuesday night. The Warriors swing into action again Saturday night on the home floor as they meet the fast St. Joseph's Catholic High School team, of Camden. The game will be a benefit tilt for the "March of Dimes" fund.

"Jimmy" Sottile is setting the pace for the Warriors in scoring with 119 points. Sottile has dumped in 46 field goals in 150 shots at the baskets, almost one in every three. In addition, the high-scoring forward of Coach Bloom's team has made 27 of his 49 foul tries and has recovered 53 rebounds.

"Ham" Konefal, the other half of the shooting positions, has netted 64 points on 27 field goals in 65 tries and sunk in 19 out of 19 liberty shots. "Don" DeLong has 33 points, making 13 fielders in 43 attempts and being successful in 7 out of 12 foul conversions. DeLong has taken possession of 57 rebounds off the boards. Both guards, "Jim" Marshall and "Val" Bielecki have been playing in the back court quite a bit and have not gathered many points but both have 27 rebounds to their credit. Marshall has had only 19 shots at the nets and made five field goals.

Coach Bloom is working his reserve men more often and is pleased with the showing of his squad thus far this season. The team worked fine against Temple High, especially when it was using the zone defense. The reserve squad is composed of: Frank Rich, Joe Pindar, Bob Bowen, Vic Cauti, Frank Barbetta, Marty Braam, and Paige Stewart.

SPORTSMEN ELECT; PRIZES ARE AWARDED

Election of officers, an outstanding illustrated talk, awarding of prizes and a brand new sound movie on Florida fishing highlighted the annual meeting of the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association held in Odd Fellows' Hall Tuesday evening. There were 200 members and guests present.

Sidney W. Popkin, well-known local businessman, was elected president, succeeding "Joe" Elbertson; while J. S. Lynn, another prominent local businessman, was elected to the post of vice-president. John Conca and James R. Chichester were re-elected treasurer and secretary, respectively.

Louis D. Davis, president of the L. D. Davis Company, Edgely thrilled the audience for almost an hour with an illustrated talk on a recent 16-day vacation in Alaska in search of big game.

Davis, who was accompanied by two companions, flew from New York to Anchorage, Alaska, and was ready to hunt 24 hours after leaving the East Coast, 3500 miles distant.

The trip, from the moment the men boarded the plane in New York, N. Y., was recorded on a number of brilliant slides. These slides were shown as Mr. Davis related his experiences.

Two brown bears, one black and one grizzly, one moose and two goats were bagged by the men on the expedition.

A brand new sound "movie," in color, just released by Eastern Airlines, was thoroughly enjoyed by the members. It depicted, in some of the most outstanding shots ever made, the thrills of fishing in the Florida area.

The association's newly-elected board of governors includes: C. Donald Moyer, John C. Johnson, Franklin Everett, John Baker and J. H. Elbertson.

Awards were made to members of the association's winning rifle team in the 1948 intra-club matches. Ralph Ratcliffe, captain of the winning team, the "Groundhogs," accepted the team plaque from the National Rifle Association. Bradsards were presented to members of the team, including: S. Popkin, E. Stackhouse, J. Egan, A. Liszewski, D. Moyer and R. Ratcliffe.

In appreciation for his outstanding services as secretary for the last two years, the association presented James R. Chichester with a pair of unusual book-ends in token of appreciation.

"Ken" Brandau, co-chairman of the club's fish committee, awarded prizes to class winners in the organization's 1948 fishing contest. Winners included: Pickrel, Norman Morris; carp, H. W. Effing; trout, Joseph Smith; salt water, Charles Smith; non game, Norman Morris. Honors in the bass division were won by "Ken" Brandau, with the presentation being made by Ollie Hobbs, co-chairman of the fish committee.

Trophies for team championship and high gun in the 1948 Lower Bucks County Trapshooting League were presented by "Jack" Autin, manager of Penn Auto & Sport Store, donors of the awards. The team trophy was won by Edgely Rod & Gun Club, while high gun trophy went to James A. Katz, a member of the Bristol trapshooting team.
